

Analysis on the Primary Research Proposals of Agricultural Extension

S. D. Lee

Summary

Advisory team for evaluation of agricultural extension projects was first set up in 1985. Based on the proposals presented by related institutes, the contents of projects were analyzed. From the results it were concluded that the training for extensists was needed. More strictly evaluation on research proposals was required. The research results must be traced and evaluated at the end of research.